

Handsome Molly

by G. B. GRAYSON

Key: A

Chorus

2. Her hair was black as a raven's,
Her eyes were bright as coal,
Her teeth shone like lilies
Out in the morning cold.

Chorus

3. Oh don't you remember, Molly,
When you gave me your right hand?
You said if you ever married
That I would be your man.

Chorus

4. I saw her in church last Monday,
She passed me on by.
I knew her mind was changing
By the rovin' in her eye.
